“
 Young people are always looking for someone to inspire them.
 They need someone to push them forward.
 Give them support.
 It's what my many mentors instilled in me, and what I hope to instill in others.

“
 As long as I can, I will continue to fight for those who are suffering, and not take anything for granted.
 Protecting the rights of people around the world is as important to me as protecting my own family.
