Oct 2: Story of the Week: Edward James Olmos

When Edward James Olmos wanted to deliver a strong anti-drug and anti-gang message to kids in the barrios in his film American Me, he went home to East Los Angeles. He shared his life-changing story with young people, asking them to stop the violence. "We all have a choice. You can do whatever you want to do," recalls one young man of Olmos. "Think about it. What you could do. What you could be."

The legendary Latino actor and activist wrote the introduction of "Stone Soup for the World: Life-Changing Stories of Everyday Heroes."
