Samantha Smith
Week of February 27 - March 5, 2022

Sunday Thoughts: Story: Samantha Smith

“Please tell me how you are going to help not have a war,” wrote 10-year-old Samantha Smith to the leader of the Soviet Union in 1982. Her compassion & courage impressed him & he invited her to visit Russia, where she made lots of friends. “Why can’t grownups get along, like kids?” she asked. #Peace #StandWithChildren #StandWithUkraine #Peacebuilding

Thursday: Throwback: Institute's Eleanor Roosevelt Award

#TBT In 2000 16-year-old Janaiba Burton Sundman received The Institute's #EleanorRoosevelt Award for founding a high school chapter of @AmnestyInternational. #TrudeLash, Secretariat for U.N. Declaration of Human Rights presented the Award. “Where, after all, do universal #HumanRights begin?” Roosevelt asked. “In small places close to home...” #WomensHistoryMonth
