

The Stone Soup Leadership Institute's Leadership Program & Sustainability Summit

Youth Delegates

Stone Soup Leadership Institute
www.stonesoupleadership.org

Sarah Ashley

Sarah Ashley is a sophomore at BCAHS. She grew up on a farm and she wants to become a veterinarian. Although she is most interested in becoming a mobile vet, she would also like to learn about various other types of veterinary care, such as clinic work, work in a zoo, or in other contexts. She would like to explore ways that veterinarians can make their businesses more sustainable and better for the environment.

Student Responses to Sustainability Survey

- Sustainability-oriented careers that interest me: There are many sustainability-oriented careers that interest me such as: a conservation officer, wildlife conservationist, environmental field animal technician, and working in sustainable livestock production.
- What fields within the Sustainable Economy interest you? Agriculture: Commercial Farming/Food Supply, Agriculture: Organic Farming, Forestry/Land Management, Horticulture and Greenhouse Management, Marine Safety and Surveillance
- Which of these sustainable certifications/qualifications might you be interested in? Certified Welding Certification, Clean Water Quality Professional Technician Certificate, Sustainable Agriculture Certificate
- What is the highest level of education you plan to complete? Doctorate

Student Responses to The Institute's Leadership Program

- Why do you want to be a Youth Delegate to the Leadership Program & Sustainability Summit? I want to be a BCAHS youth delegate to meet new people and create new opportunities for myself while learning about sustainability. This will help me learn to be a more sustainable farmer in the future.
- Why is The Institute's Green Job Shadow Day important to you? so I can discover new pathways that may I be interested in. It can also help me gain new experiences and knowledge that I may not have had previously. I have been inspired most by the adults that are so passionate on what they are doing. It really inspired me to take initiative and start thinking more about what I truly want to do in life, or what I don't want to do in life.
- Why are you eager to meet the Terceira Delegates? I am eager to meet them because I want to learn about their culture. I think it is interesting to learn about what they go through in high school versus what we are learning here in Massachusetts.
- What aspect of servant-leadership is the most important to you? Something that I learned was that you don't have to have the title of being a leader to take the role of a leader. I had experiences on my basketball team that I was not a captain, so I didn't have a title of being a leader, but my coach really encouraged me to be a leader.

Madeline M. Beerman

Madeline M. Beerman is a junior at BCAHS. She wants to pursue a career in sustainability within the medical field in medical biology, biochemistry (pharmaceuticals), or environmental biology. She plans to pursue a degree in biomedical engineering. She is interested in how healthy food can be made accessible to all so that everyone can be well-fed and healthy. She hopes to learn from a mentor what some of the challenges are in introducing true sustainability into their field.

Student Responses to Sustainability Survey

- What fields within the Sustainable Economy interest you? Agriculture: Micro Farming, Clean Water/Wastewater Technology, Forestry/Land Management, Government Policy: Local, Regional and International, Sustainable Education
- Which of these sustainable certifications/qualifications might you be interested in? Agriculture: Micro Farming, Clean Water/Wastewater Technology, Forestry/Land Management, Government Policy: Local, Regional and International, Sustainable Education
- What is the highest level of education you plan to complete? Doctorate

Student Responses to The Institute's Leadership Program

- Why do you want to be a Youth Delegate to the Leadership Program & Sustainability Summit? I am eager to meet the Terceira delegates and exchange ideas about local farming and community sustainability. I think it will be exciting to share what we have learned about sustainability, and show them around our recently updated campus where we strive to maintain our farms and the environment. I am even more excited to meet new people and learn about new cultures, and exceedingly eager to hear about how they maintain their farms in a sustainable way!
- Why is The Institute's Green Job Shadow Day important to you? The Institute's Green Job Shadow Day is important to me because it gives me hope for my future occupation. It is and is going to continue to be an inspiring experience to see others in the fields I wish to pursue- not only that but becoming successful all while being environmentally sustainable.

Nicholas Boutin

Nicholas Boutin is a sophomore at BCAHS. He wants to work in the field of marine science so he can help preserve our oceans and waterways for future generations. His work in community service with the Westport River Watershed Alliance, and his sailing experiences, have inspired him to want to work with the ocean.

Student Responses to Sustainability Survey

- Sustainability-oriented careers that interest me: I would like to work in an engineering field that focuses on green infrastructure and energy as one of my possible career paths.
- What fields within the Sustainable Economy interest you? Clean Water/Wastewater Technology, Forestry/Land Management, Marine Trade: Shipping, Construction and Transportation, Marine Safety and Surveillance, Ocean Observation/Data Analytics, Offshore Wind Energy, Solar Energy
- Which of these sustainable certifications/qualifications might you be interested in? Clean Water Quality Professional Technician Certificate, Commercial Fishing At-Sea Monitoring Certificate, Drinking Water Quality Professional Technician Certificate, Geographic Information Systems, Offshore Wind Power Technology Certificate, Solar Energy Certificate
- What is the highest level of education you plan to complete? Masters

Student Responses to The Institute's Leadership Program

- Why are you eager to meet the Terceira Delegates? I want to be able to meet people who are interested in similar things even if they're from a different place. I'm excited to be able to learn about other people culture and how they want to work on sustainability in their own various ways. I think that the best way to learn new things and about other people is by meeting them in person.
- What aspect of servant-leadership is the most important to you? The most important part of servant-leadership to me is that it helps the people other than the leader, and it means the leader is working to help those that they are leading.

Sophie Berges

Sophie Berges is a junior at BCAHS. The careers she is interested in exploring include Ag teacher, veterinarian, or K9 Officer/Handler. In the future she hopes to live on a farm and do her best to help her community. She enjoys working with children and with animals.

Student Responses to Sustainability Survey

- Sustainability-oriented careers that interest me: Sustainability-oriented careers that interest me included zoologists, wildlife biologists, and conservation biologists. In these three careers, I would have to give scientific services regarding the management of wildlife. This can include all animals and their habitats. Duties for these jobs specifically oriented with sustainability include collecting data on population patterns of different species to correctly identify different management and how our environmental factors impact them.
- What fields within the Sustainable Economy interest you? Agriculture: Commercial Farming/Food Supply, Forestry/Land Management, Floriculture, Marine Trade: Shipping, Construction and Transportation, Ocean Observation/Data Analytics, Sustainable Education
- Which of these sustainable certifications/qualifications might you be interested in? Certified Welding Certification, Commercial Fishing At-Sea Monitoring Certificate, Geographic Information Systems, Global Reporting Initiative Professional Certification, Sustainable Agriculture Certificate, US Green Building Council LEED Certification
- What is the highest level of education you plan to complete? Bachelors

Student Responses to The Institute's Leadership Program

- Why is The Institute's Green Job Shadow Day important to you? The institute's green job shadow day was important because it opened my eyes to the opportunities available and how much of an impact mentors can make in my life.

Gabriella Carvalho

Gabriella Carvalho is a junior at BCAHS. She would like to pursue a career in arboriculture and business. She would like to learn more about the field in general so she can see how working in arboriculture could help her to make a positive impact on her environment and her community.

Student Responses to Sustainability Survey

- What fields within the Sustainable Economy interest you? Forestry/Land Management
- Which of these sustainable certifications/qualifications might you be interested in? Forestry/Land Management
- What is the highest level of education you plan to complete? Associates (2-year)

Student Responses to The Institute's Leadership Program

- Why do you want to be a Youth Delegate to the Leadership Program & Sustainability Summit? I am excited to see other students from a different place that have a different perspective on Sustainability issues. It also allows us to see to have an open mind and learn how to communicate our ideas with others.
- Why is The Institute's Green Job Shadow Day important to you? The Green Job shadow day gives us the opportunity to shadow possible careers in sustainability. This is inspiring because we get to explore what we are interested in and what we are not.
- What aspect of servant-leadership is the most important to you? The most important thing about servant leadership to me is that it is a easy way to be a leader and to help those around you. Simple kindness and helpfulness can change an environment for the better. In my personal experience my vocational teachers display leadership by going above and beyond in order to give us experiences that will help us learn and grow.

Jayda dos Anjos

Jayda dos Anjos is a sophomore at BCAHS.

Student Responses to Sustainability Survey

- Sustainability-oriented careers that interest me: Sustainability-oriented careers that interest me include sustainable Agriculture Director and Urban Agriculture Production Assistant.
- What fields within the Sustainable Economy interest you? Agriculture: Apiary Farming, Agriculture: Anaerobic Farming, Agriculture: Organic Farming
- Which of these sustainable certifications/qualifications might you be interested in? Certified Welding Certification, Offshore Wind Power Technology Certificate, Sustainable Agriculture Certificate
- What is the highest level of education you plan to complete? Associates (2-year)

Student Responses to The Institute's Leadership Program

- Why do you want to be a Youth Delegate to the Leadership Program & Sustainability Summit? : I want to be a BCAHS youth delegate to improve social skills while meeting new people and becoming a better person in agriculture to help the planet.
- Why is The Institute's Green Job Shadow Day important to you? It is important to me because I am able to see what people that have done I could also potentially do. How much people traveled inspires me because I have always wanted to travel so seeing that they are still successful makes me less scared to travel.
- Why are you eager to meet the Terceira Delegates? I am excited to meet all of them because I want to meet new people and see what they do in their culture and show them what we do here at Bristol Aggie in Massachusetts
- What aspect of servant-leadership is the most important to you? Learning that you don't have to be either a well known person or a known leader to be a true leader.

Julianna Dufresne

Julianna Dufresne is a junior at BCAHS. She is interested in a career in virology, biology, or epidemiology. She would like to learn ways to prevent emerging infectious diseases through any aspect of sustainability, whether it be dealing with food, water, energy, or some other area.

Student Responses to Sustainability Survey

- Sustainability-oriented careers that interest me: Environmental virologist/biologist, wildlife biologist, ecologist, immunologist, agricultural entomologist, climatologist or veterinarian.
- What fields within the Sustainable Economy interest you? Agriculture: Organic Farming, Clean Water/Wastewater Technology, Marine Safety and Surveillance, Sustainable Investments, Sustainable Education
- Which of these sustainable certifications/qualifications might you be interested in? Clean Water Quality Professional Technician Certificate, Sustainable Agriculture Certificate
- What is the highest level of education you plan to complete? PhD, Clean Water Quality Professional Technician Certificate, Sustainable Agriculture Certificate

Jenna Harker

Jenna Harker is a sophomore at BCAHS. She has a strong interest in finding a career that will allow her to travel. She is also interested in the field of education. She hopes to learn what kinds of careers in sustainability might allow her to have a positive impact in her community and in the world.

Student Responses to Sustainability Survey

- Sustainability-oriented careers that interest me: careers that involve green energy. We use energy in our lives every day, and any career that could help make this energy more clean is a potential future career for me.
- What fields within the Sustainable Economy interest you? Clean Water/Wastewater Technology, Government Policy: Local, Regional and International, Grassroots/Community Organizing, Marine Safety and Surveillance, Offshore Wind Energy, Solar Energy, Sustainable Investments, Sustainable Education
- Which of these sustainable certifications/qualifications might you be interested in? Clean Water Quality Professional Technician Certificate, Drinking Water Quality Professional Technician Certificate, Solar Energy Certificate, Sustainable Agriculture Certificate
- What is the highest level of education you plan to complete? Masters

Student Responses to The Institute's Leadership Program

- Why do you want to be a Youth Delegate to the Leadership Program & Sustainability Summit? I want to be a BCAHS youth delegate because I am interested in making a change and all of the opportunities the program has to offer. I hope this program teaches me to achieve my dreams of learning about different cultures and living in a cleaner community/world.
- Why is The Institute's Green Job Shadow Day important to you? The Institute's Green Job Shadow is important to me because it shows me lots of different opportunities for my future. I am thinking of being an ESL teacher, but I am now thinking of more sustainable education or ways to make a difference through education abroad as well as this. I was very inspired by the fact that I will be paired with a mentor who does a job similar to what I am interested in.
- Why are you eager to meet the Terceira Delegates? I am eager to meet the Terceira Delegates because I am interested in making new friends and learning more about their culture!
- What aspect of servant-leadership is the most important to you? The aspect of servant-leadership that is most important to me is that leaders are not abusing their power. I have many teachers that treat me like an equal, and I really appreciate this and think this is a good example of servant leadership and respect between me and a teacher.

Shayn Jones

Shayn Jones is a sophomore at BCAHS. He would like to become a veterinarian. He would like to own his own business and be a leader for his community and his peers. Eventually he would like to become a leader in the field of agriculture, for example, a commissioner of agriculture. He wants to promote a community that is welcoming and is creating a better future for people and for the environment.

Student Responses to Sustainability Survey

- Sustainability-oriented careers that interest me: Sustainability-oriented careers that interest me include conservation worker, ecologist, wildlife biologist, and research scientist.
- What fields within the Sustainable Economy interest you? Agriculture: Commercial Farming/Food Supply, Agriculture: Apiary Farming, Agriculture: Anaerobic Farming, Agriculture: Micro Farming, Agriculture: Organic Farming, Forestry/Land Management, Government Policy: Local, Regional and International
- Which of these sustainable certifications/qualifications might you be interested in? Geographic Information Systems, Sustainable Agriculture Certificate
- What is the highest level of education you plan to complete? Geographic Information Systems, Sustainable Agriculture Certificate

Student Responses to The Institute's Leadership Program

- Why do you want to be a Youth Delegate to the Leadership Program & Sustainability Summit? I want to be a BCAHS youth delegate to improve my community, learn more and improve my education, and learn how to be a better leader. I hope this program will help me gain connections in different industries, help me to be a better leader for my peers and coworkers, and further my knowledge in sustainability and agriculture.
- Why is The Institute's Green Job Shadow Day important to you? Why is The Institute's Green Job Shadow Day important to you? I think the Institute Green Job Shadow Day was important because I know understand how we are going to be connected to mentors. What inspired me the most was Vincent's advice that it is just as important to find out what you don't like as it is to find out what you like.
- Why are you eager to meet the Terceira Delegates? I'm excited to learn about their culture and their community. I am only used to Massachusetts, and I would value learning from people with different experiences.
- What aspect of servant-leadership is the most important to you? Serving and thinking of others before yourself is the most important part of servant-leadership. My foreman helps us the best he can and he takes the harder jobs for himself.

Melina Luciano

Melina Luciano is a junior at BCAHS. She would like to become a livestock veterinarian. She is interested in learning new and sustainable practices that can help the farm community. She has studied large animals and has enjoyed learning how to vaccinate, bottle feed, and castrate calves.

Student Responses to Sustainability Survey

- Sustainability-oriented careers that interest me: Veterinary science, Agricultural scientist, and working for the government while providing reports on our sustainable future.
- What fields within the Sustainable Economy interest you? Agriculture: Commercial Farming/Food Supply, Agriculture: Apiary Farming, Agriculture: Anaerobic Farming, Agriculture: Micro Farming, Agriculture: Organic Farming, Clean Water/Wastewater Technology, Forestry/Land Management, Government Policy: Local, Regional and International, Marine Trade: Shipping, Construction and Transportation, Marine Safety and Surveillance, Ocean Observation/Data Analytics, Solar Energy, Sustainable Education
- Which of these sustainable certifications/qualifications might you be interested in? Business Energy Professional Certification, Clean Water Quality Professional Technician Certificate, Commercial Fishing At-Sea Monitoring Certificate, Drinking Water Quality Professional Technician Certificate, Solar Energy Certificate, Sustainable Agriculture Certificate, US Green Building Council LEED Certification
- What is the highest level of education you plan to complete? Masters

Student Responses to The Institute's Leadership Program

- Why do you want to be a Youth Delegate to the Leadership Program & Sustainability Summit? I want to be a BCAHS youth delegate because this feels right. I feel like I belong here and this program will help me understand how to be more sustainable in the industry before I actually go into the industry.
- Why is The Institute's Green Job Shadow Day important to you? This was important to me because I got to learn a bunch of new things and this was super helpful and just inspired me more to figure out sustainable veterinarian practices
- Why are you eager to meet the Terceira Delegates? I am eager to meet them because we get to learn about their culture and what sustainability means to them and learn how things are for them & what they think about us.
- What aspect of servant-leadership is the most important to you? The most important aspect is to be a leader but not use it to an advantage to have a higher power over others.

Maya McAndrews

Maya McAndrews is a sophomore at BCAHS. She wants to have a lasting positive impact on the overall quality of life of the people around her. She is very open to learning about the different forms this may take, especially in the field of sustainability. She is interested in learning about environmental legislation and the possibility of working in a position in local government.

Student Responses to Sustainability Survey

- Sustainability-oriented careers that interest me: environmental consulting, we once had a speaker come to the school who was an environmental consultant and the career sounded appealing.
- What fields within the Sustainable Economy interest you? Agriculture: Anaerobic Farming, Agriculture: Micro Farming, Clean Water/Wastewater Technology, Grassroots/Community Organizing, Solar Energy
- Which of these sustainable certifications/qualifications might you be interested in? Clean Water Quality Professional Technician Certificate, Drinking Water Quality Professional Technician Certificate, Geographic Information Systems, Solar Energy Certificate, US Green Building Council LEED Certification
- What is the highest level of education you plan to complete? Bachelors

Student Responses to The Institute's Leadership Program

- Why do you want to be a Youth Delegate to the Leadership Program & Sustainability Summit? I want to be a BCAHS youth delegate because the core values of the Stone Soup program align with my own and I hope it will help prepare me for sustainability-oriented jobs I plan to pursue.
- Why is The Institute's Green Job Shadow Day important to you? The Institute's Green Job Shadow Day is important to me because it helped me understand the benefits of job shadowing. I am looking forward to being paired with a mentor and getting the opportunity to learn from them. I've been inspired to research and try out different career paths as opposed to focusing on just one so that I may learn what I would and would not want to pursue as a career. I sincerely appreciate that the professionals we met took time out of their day to reach out to us.
- Why are you eager to meet the Terceira Delegates? I am looking forward to meeting all of the Terceira Delegates and making long-lasting friendships.
- What aspect of servant-leadership is the most important to you? The most important aspect of servant-leadership is people respecting you without using force but through kind actions.

Matthew Mosher

Matthew Mosher is a sophomore at BCAHS. He is interested in exploring a career in the culinary arts. He is not only interested in working to produce existing foods in a healthy and environmentally friendly manner, but also in finding ways to create new alternatives for existing foods that are not good for the environment, or for people. His dream is to work toward creating a better and more sustainable future for himself and for the world around him.

Student Responses to Sustainability Survey

- Sustainability-oriented careers that interest me: Environmental sustainability field researcher, environmental engineer, sustainability manager.
- What fields within the Sustainable Economy interest you? Clean Water/Wastewater Technology, Forestry/Land Management, Marine Trade: Shipping, Construction and Transportation, Marine Safety and Surveillance, Ocean Observation/Data Analytics, Offshore Wind Energy, Solar Energy
- Which of these sustainable certifications/qualifications might you be interested in? Clean Water Quality Professional Technician Certificate, Drinking Water Quality Professional Technician Certificate, Offshore Wind Power Technology Certificate, Solar Energy Certificate, US Green Building Council LEED Certification Council LEED Certification
- What is the highest level of education you plan to complete? Bachelors

Student Responses to The Institute's Leadership Program

- Why do you want to be a Youth Delegate to the Leadership Program & Sustainability Summit? Being a BCAHS youth delegate gives me an opportunity to make a positive change to the world around me, and this program is the path I see myself taking to help the world for others in the environmental/sustainability field by working with these great people to do it.
- Why are you eager to meet the Terceira Delegates? I am very eager to meet with the other delegates in order to learn more about another culture, with individuals of similar interests, especially in the area of sustainability. I'm very excited to meet with them, and I'm glad we have the opportunity to make such a collaboration possible thanks to this program.
- What aspect of servant-leadership is the most important to you? I think the core idea of servant leadership is the leader not placing themselves above others, and being able to work as equals with those in their team. Ms. Canuel is the best example here at Bristol Aggie for this, and all the work we do in Environmental Engineering is always enjoyable because of how she leads us.

William O'Keefe

William O'Keefe is a Freshman at BCAHS. His dream is to improve his community's environment by introducing new ideas to make it a healthier place; and his dream for the world is to reduce our carbon footprint. William is especially proud of the lessons he's learned teaching Taekwondo to younger students each week for the past several years. He would love to learn about a variety of environmental careers, for example conservation work, creating new solutions, or doing field research.

Student Responses to Sustainability Survey

- Sustainability-oriented careers that interest me: Sustainability-oriented careers that interest me include Environmental Engineering.
- What fields within the Sustainable Economy interest you? Clean Water/Wastewater Technology, Forestry/Land Management, Floriculture, Marine Trade: Shipping, Construction and Transportation, Marine Safety and Surveillance, Ocean Observation/Data Analytics, Offshore Wind Energy, Solar Energy, Sustainable Investments, Sustainable Education
- Which of these sustainable certifications/qualifications might you be interested in? Business Energy Professional Certification, Certified Welding Certification, Clean Water Quality Professional Technician Certificate, Commercial Fishing At-Sea Monitoring Certificate, Drinking Water Quality Professional Technician Certificate, Geographic Information Systems, Global Reporting Initiative Professional Certification, Offshore Wind Power Technology Certificate, Solar Energy Certificate, Sustainable Agriculture Certificate
- What is the highest level of education you plan to complete? Bachelors

Student Responses to The Institute's Leadership Program

- Why do you want to be a Youth Delegate to the Leadership Program & Sustainability Summit? I want to be a BCAHS youth delegate so I can learn how to influence and lead people to a better, more sustainable future. I hope that this program prepares me with skills of many varieties for school and beyond like job and communities. I hope that this program helps me make the world better and prepares me to take action to help make the world better.
- Why is The Institute's Green Job Shadow Day important to you? It showed me the different point of views in the sustainable world and the jobs that help it. Vincent's speech inspired me the most. His point about traveling around the world and exploring all the options to find what I like and what I don't like was definitely influential.
- Why are you eager to meet the Terceira Delegates? I am eager to see the differences we share and how to improve each other's communities through in person and on Zoom.
- What aspect of servant-leadership is the most important to you? I think the idea of valuing everyone's thoughts and opinions in a group is the best to help direct the group.

Emily Price

Emily Price is a junior at BCAHS. She wants to become a medical professional, possibly within the realm of pediatrics or general nursing. Some of the other careers that interest her include labor and delivery nurse, or some aspect of environmental health.

Student Responses to Sustainability Survey

- Sustainability-oriented careers that interest me: Careers regarding biological studies and research, specifically as a medical technician. I would love to work within the field of finding cures to diseases and illnesses that we have yet to advance toward successfully.
- What fields within the Sustainable Economy interest you? Agriculture: Organic Farming, Clean Water/Wastewater Technology, Forestry/Land Management
- Which of these sustainable certifications/qualifications might you be interested in? Agriculture: Organic Farming, Clean Water/Wastewater Technology, Forestry/Land Management
- What is the highest level of education you plan to complete? Masters

Student Responses to The Institute's Leadership Program

- Why do you want to be a Youth Delegate to the Leadership Program & Sustainability Summit? As a youth delegate I hope to broaden my knowledge about creating a sustainable world and future. I wish to have a career in the healthcare field, allowing myself to help not only save lives, but make their lives brighter in every way I can.
- Why is The Institute's Green Job Shadow Day important to you? I am very excited to partake in this event. Especially regarding mentorship opportunities that are presented in a way for myself and my peers to gain experience and knowledge within our desired dreams and careers. I myself am intrigued with the medical field and pursuing a career within that realm. I am excited to see what I gain from this experience and what will help me reach that goal.
- Why are you eager to meet the Terceira Delegates? I am very excited to meet the Terceira Delegates not only virtually, but in-person! It will be interesting to see them in their classroom and to hear about their education, in comparison to ours here, at Bristol Aggie.
- What aspect of servant-leadership is the most important to you? To me, servant-leadership is understanding that a leader is not someone who holds power over you and takes advantage of that authority in a negative way. Servant-leadership relays the actions a leader should pursue. Leaders should treat you with the same respect that you give them and it is not only a one-way system for earning respect.

Mason Tavares

Mason Tavares is a freshman at BCAHS. He is interested in a career in agriculture, possibly in veterinary medicine, or in politics. He has completed over 300 hours of community service in his local public library, which taught him how to interact with the public and with people from all different backgrounds and experiences. He would like to learn how to become a leader in his future field and in his community. From a mentor he would like to learn about the sustainability actions being made in his/her field, and how to help the world become a more sustainable place.

Student Responses to Sustainability Survey

- Sustainability-oriented careers that interest me: I think that Wildlife Conservation is a very important thing in our society so careers in fields including and around that peak my interest.
- What fields within the Sustainable Economy interest you? Agriculture: Commercial Farming/Food Supply, Agriculture: Micro Farming, Agriculture: Organic Farming, Clean Water/Wastewater Technology, Government Policy: Local, Regional and International, Grassroots/Community Organizing, Marine Safety and Surveillance, Ocean Observation/Data Analytics, Offshore Wind Energy, Solar Energy, Sustainable Education
- Which of these sustainable certifications/qualifications might you be interested in? Business Energy Professional Certification, Clean Water Quality Professional Technician Certificate, Commercial Fishing At-Sea Monitoring Certificate, Solar Energy Certificate, US Green Building Council LEED Certification
- What is the highest level of education you plan to complete? Doctorate

Student Responses to The Institute's Leadership Program

- Why do you want to be a Youth Delegate to the Leadership Program & Sustainability Summit? I want to be a BCAHS youth delegate so that I can help and support people in my community. I hope that this program can teach me skills that will be useful in my future and can help make me a better leader in my community.
- Why is The Institute's Green Job Shadow Day important to you? I think that Green Job Shadow Day is important because it is important to know what you are going into when you join a certain field of a workforce. I think Vincent's speech was what inspired me the most and was very informative on what we need to do to learn about our own futures.
- Why are you eager to meet the Terceira Delegates? I'm excited to meet the delegates from Terceira so that we can learn about the sustainability efforts that are being made in their community.
- What aspect of servant-leadership is the most important to you? I think the aspect of the leaders doing all that they can to serve their workers and that it is important to show empathy with your workers.